The Japanese Peace Lantern was a gift from Usaburo “Tsuda” Tsujita. Tsuda worked for the Bok family in the 1920s and greatly admired Edward Bok and his campaign for World Peace.

In Japanese, lanterns are called dai-doro and the Peace Lantern was designed in the Kasuga style. It is hand carved and features doves, a symbol of peace.

Who is someone that you admire that you would give a lantern to? You can put your special inscription here.
