Did you know?
Thousands of colorful tiles adorn the outside of the Singing Tower, and each was handmade!

This tile grille design can be seen at the 103-foot level of the Bok Singing Tower. Located inside at this level is the Anton Brees Carillon Library.

The tile grilles were designed by Walter P. Suter, chief designer for Enfield Pottery & Tile Works.