The east and west windows of the first floor of the Singing Tower, called the Founder’s Room, feature special pierced sculpture designed by Lee Lawrie in a neo-Gothic and Art Deco style.
Did you know?
The sculpted window grilles are carved on both sides, as opposed to being flat on the back.